CHAPTER-1

Project Description – BOOKS

The objective of this project to create front-end shopping website that showcase my knowledge in HTML, CSS, JS, Bootstrap framework, gradient colors as background. The website includes multiple pages such as Login page, Home page, books shopping page, email books and English story books, Accessories page. I used Bootstrap framework with the help of this I included automatic running carousel in my home page which gives shopping website ambiance.

In Login page of our books store website gets username and password, user credentials validation done through java script code here it checks three conditions.

- Username length must not be equal to zero.
- Password length must have minimum 8 characters.
- Password value must be "admin123".
- E-mail value must be "@ symbol using..

If above conditions satisfies it redirects to home page otherwise alert message will pop up as Login Failed!

Home page contains BOOKS STORE display banner. This banner is achieved using CSS styles where background image property is used. The navigation bar styled through list where each list value having anchor tag which redirect to respective pages. Using keyframe style welcome card is displayed on the home page. Using bootstrap framework in our webpage achieved automatic running carousel which contains product images by clicking them it redirects to respective pages.

Each page redirected from home page contains home button which is used to redirect to home page, using bootstrap card templates created product cards which contains images, details of product and add to cart button. When we hover the image in the product card the image gets zoomed in this achieved by using CSS property transform. When we click add to cart button alert message will be popup as "Added to cart successfully!!!".
